Dear Mr. Gartner,

I know what it is to be without money. We have not yet taken in enough on this book to repay the printing costs only.

However, I can also imagine what it is to be under your conditions.

So, here is a copy.

In the event your associates or library are interested in the other books, I enclose a list of them.

There may be one way in which you can be of help. I mention it on the chance it is possible.

I keep files for students of the future. To this end I collect all the news accounts I can. Even the nutty ones. And, of course, sometimes they do hold information of worth.

You and others you know may get papers and magazines that carry stories I don't see here on the opposite coast. So, if you do and if sending them is not too much trouble, I'd appreciate it if you send them.

If you can, don't send each one as soon as you see it. Collect them and send them after you have a couple, which will also save postage. You can send them 3rd class, which is approximate half rate.

If you do, please try to include the name of the publication and the date.

Best wishes,

Harold Weisberg
